

For Freedom Christ Has Set Us Free
The Authority of the Gospel
Galatians 1:11-24

We all know people that have an opinion about everything, and we all know people who are willing to voice those opinions even if they are unsolicited. We see trials on TV that seem to be won or lost in the court of public opinion. Public opinion can be very persuasive and it can cause us to doubt the sources and surety of our own beliefs if they happen to be different from the majority.

1. The gospel is _____ for us
  - A. Our gospel authority _____
  - B. Our gospel authority _____
  - C. Our gospel authority _____
2. The gospel is _____ for us
  - A. A grace-driven gospel _____ us for His glory
  - B. A grace-driven gospel _____ us for His glory
  - C. A grace-driven gospel _____ us for His glory

How has the gospel of grace conformed you to the nature and character of God? Is your story of Christ centered on the gospel of grace, or does it always just seem to point back to you? Have you tried to write your story in such a way that it is more plausible for you to believe and more palatable for your friends to accept? If that is the case, I want to invite you to embrace the true grace-driven gospel of Jesus Christ and experience the unconditional, eternally secured love that God wants you to experience.
