

Journey to the Cross
Walking on Water
John 6:15-21

Our world is hurried and rushed. For the past century we have been trying to figure out how to go faster and farther than previous generations. We have an innate desire to look for satisfaction in achievement, position, and control. We tend to be impatient, manipulative, and self-reliant when it comes to getting what we want, and more often than not, the result is chaos.

1. Jesus lets us _____ in darkness
2. Jesus _____ Himself to us in His time
3. Jesus invites us to _____ Him

When we see Jesus more powerful than the chaos and darkness around us, coming to us and announcing that he is the "I am,"; the God who brings us comfort; the God who forgives our sin and sees beyond our brokenness; the God who will lead us to freedom; we realize we are exactly where we need to be.
