

Grace Unraveled
A Compelling Grace
2 Corinthians 5:11 – 6:2

Procrastination leads us to put off until tomorrow that which we should be doing today. We tend to think that we have more time than we really have and when we begin to realize we don't, we rationalize our procrastination by convincing ourselves that we work better under pressure.

1. The _____ compels us to share
  - A. We must see beyond the _____
  - B. We must _____ being thought foolish
  - C. We must _____ others regardless
2. The _____ compels us to share
  - A. Christ's love _____ us
  - B. Christ's love _____ us
  - C. Christ's love _____ us
3. The _____ compels us to share
  - A. We are ambassadors of _____
  - B. We are ambassadors of _____
  - C. We are ambassadors of _____

The fear of the Lord, the love of Christ and the authority of God thus drove Paul to prioritize his role as an ambassador of Christ. Such a prioritization should characterize the life of every believer, for we are all ambassadors of Christ.

Reflection

Consider what it means to fear the Lord. How can a believer fear the Lord and be confident in the Spirit at the same time? What is reconciliation? To whom or what must we be reconciled? Why is this important? What happens to people who are not reconciled? How does a person become reconciled? How did you? If you can articulate answers to these questions, then you are ready to be the ambassador of Christ that God has called you to be. Begin sharing with urgency the gospel that has been entrusted to you.
