

The Harvest and Our Mission
John 4:27-38

Our society is an industrialized society. We often make more than we need, and we make it faster than we need it. Our consumer-driven worldview demands new and improved products and expects them to be delivered at a low cost with free overnight shipping. Our economy functions around the rules of supply and demand, but God's economy operates in a completely different paradigm.

1. _____ the Father is Jesus' most _____ task.
2. The Father works in _____ of our _____.
3. The harvest produces _____ Christ experiences.

When we embrace the gospel, we become a part of a family whose business is to invite others in. God allows us the privilege to share in His work and experience the blessing of seeing people come to Christ as Savior and Lord. As we surrender every aspect of our life to Him, he uses us, our time, our giftedness, and our financial resources to do His work for His glory.
