

Victory: A Saved and Sanctified Life
Jesus, Our Victor
Revelation 1:12-20

“Spoiler alert” is a phrase that is used to warn someone that the end of a story is about to be revealed. In most cases, we want to avoid spoiling the ending of a story, but when it comes to living out the Christian life, it can be extremely helpful to know that in the end, Christ wins.

Jesus Christ is the _____ Lord of all.

1. The _____ of Christ reflects His victory.
2. The _____ of Christ guarantees His victory.
3. The _____ of Christ realizes His victory.

What a privilege to know the end of the story. As disciples of Jesus we see the end as if it has already occurred. We see that regardless of how history runs its course in humanity, Christ will be victorious, because He already is victorious. The good news is that the victory He offers humanity, He offers to us individually. We can be confident in Christ’s victory as we follow Him each day.
