

Revelation: The Promise of Glory
Sovereignty and Suffering
Revelation 6:1-17

Our world struggles to find secular solutions to problems. We spend billions of dollars researching medical solutions to offset the devastating effects of behavioral choices that violate God's original intentions and design. We want to be our own sovereigns and blame others, even God, for our suffering.

1. God is ultimately _____ over evil.
2. People are morally _____ for evil.
3. God will judge people who _____ Him.

Revelation 6-7 remind us that the world is currently experiencing the judgment of God. Even though tribulation is upon us, we have hope in Christ because the empty tomb is proof that He has overcome. God is sovereign, even in our suffering. He promises that His people will remain secure and will stand in heaven in the end. In the meantime, we are challenged to repent of our sin, proclaim the gospel, cry out for justice and live our lives loyal to a kingdom that will last forever.
