

Genesis: Back to Basics
God of the Nations
Genesis 9:17 – 10:32

If we read enough biographies, we will most likely discover some disappointing actions or attitudes in the lives of people we admire. At the same time, if we look deep enough into our past, we are bound to find some grinning skeleton lurking in the closets of our own lives, as well.

1. Our sinful nature _____ tragedy.
2. Our broken world _____ our future.
3. Our sovereign God _____ our legacy.

The church's commission to go into all the world isn't some New Testament afterthought. The Great Commission is written into the fabric of human history beginning all the way back in Genesis. Noah's three sons left a mixed legacy to the world, but the Lord of the nations is still in charge and history is still His story.
