

Jesus Changes Everything
Jesus Provides
Mark 6:34-44

A good portion of our society, the church included, is extremely benevolent. We want to help others and meet their needs on a daily basis, often looking for long-term solutions to their problems. The problem is that we are often overwhelmed when we realize that our resources are just too inadequate to meet the needs of the world. Does that mean we stop trying?

1. Jesus was _____ with compassion
 - A. We must recognize someone _____
 - B. We must recognize someone _____
2. Jesus was _____ to action
 - A. We must _____ our responsibilities
 - B. We must _____ what we can
 - C. We must _____ Jesus for the rest
3. Jesus was _____ as Messiah
 - A. He _____ the bread
 - B. He _____ the bread
 - C. He is _____

Jesus showed His compassion, love, and mercy to a crowd of 5,000 people on a hill in a desolate place. Later He would demonstrate these same attributes on a hill called Calvary. In our story, the miracle of Jesus provided satisfaction for the day. At the cross, the miracle of Jesus provided satisfaction for all eternity.
